

Inscription on Raynal C. Bolling's statue which stands on Greenwich Avenue near World War I monument

Born September 1, 1877

Foresaw his nations call to arms and left a brilliant career

To prepare himself for service in the World War

Colonel of aviation American expeditionary forces

He laid the foundation for our aerial warfare in France

He fell in action near Amiens on March 26, 1918

In the vanguard of the thousands of Americans

Who gave all for their country.

